“ Jay bobek was a amazing part of my life!
He was there when I was born,
I have know him for my whole 39 years of my life.
The first time I witness d.j ing was with jay
It was the time when everybody was using cds
Yeah a funny memory was watching jay teach the chicken dance lol
Jay and my dad taught me me how to play music
He gave a great oportunity To play the metro in Chicago
Which I was only 15 or 16 years old and he was very comforting during that day Because I was really scared I even hid behind him
The band was called freedom With members jay bobek,Stephan palm,Timothy barett and of course myself josh palm
We played a local tv show called strings and things
Jay was the one that got me into pa work
I even have his recomadtions of one of the top mixers
That I purchased because of jay Jay was the one that taught the basics of life sound
To this day it's a great tribute and a way to feel close in my heart with jay
Jay was also there when my mother passed and comforted me throughout the stages of greef
Just to name a few of events we shared together
And many more
Iam so crushed jay had a huge impact on my life through the bad and great jay was and will ever be deeply in my heart I will sorely miss him

“ Jay was a truly wonderful man. I regret losing track of him after I moved to Missouri, but I fondly remember the many years we played together in the band Freedom. He was an excellent guitarist and singer and had an awesome sense of humor. I'm not sure how but he put up with my eccentricities for all that time and was a great friend. He was the kind of person who'd give you the shirt off his back if you needed it. He was class through and through. Dude, I've missed you for the 8 years I've been away and now I'll miss you for a very long time after. As the ancient Egyptians would say, the feather will greatly outweigh that wonderful, kind heart of yours. Your reward will be great, and your legacy will live on in your lovely wife and your beautiful children.
Cheers my friend, until we meet again. Love to you,
Timothy Barrett-Ford.

Another aside, thanks Jay for helping me keep my head during the recording of Sea of Monsters' first album. And even though we're very different, thank you for being my friend.

“ 3 1/2 years ago, when I returned to Barrington Lodge after a prolonged absence, the first one to greet me with a warm smile, friendly handshake, and inviting welcome was Jay. Since then, I have come to realize that small gestures can leave lasting impressions. Though usually not outgoing with strangers by nature, I have tried to make a conscious effort to welcome, talk to, and sit with new members at our meetings. Jay made that change in me. I believe it is for the better. He will be missed.
