“ There are so many great memories of LARRY but a few of them stick out and I wanted to share them. Back in his early days at Fox Valley Fire LARRY had to be on emergency call on a rotating basis. Whenever I would get a call, his first question was is it East of route 59 because you know I don't go past that. LARRY was definitely a Hampshire boy and didn't want to have anything to do with the big cities. Another great memory was when he was helping me roof my barn. It was in the fall, and the roof was a little slick from the frost, and I came sliding down and fortunately landed on a pile of shingles. It really hurt and the sympathy I got from Larry was a big gut- busting laugh and laugh and laugh and laugh. Finally he asked me if I was OK like he really cared. I think he got a lot of enjoyment out of seeing the boss hurting on a pile of shingles.

Larry - we're going to miss you. Maybe there's something up there that needs fixing and you're the man for the job.
