“ A Griller for the Ages: Aside from being the most beautiful toddler with shining blue eyes, so many memories. One that makes me chuckle is Mikey holding court in his 30s with several older women circled around him in chairs at a relative's wake. Enthusiastically explaining how to grill a turkey on a grill, he answered their questions with a depth of nuance and encouraged them that it is easy. His casual, welcoming tone would inspire anyone to throw that big bird on a grate. One member of his audience was busily jotting notes. When hosting us at one of his griller events he also offered dishes made from his impressive garden. We'll miss you, Mikey
